THOUSANDS OF PARCELS HERE

Town Force, Assisted by the Rural Carriers, Handle Thousands of Small Parcels during Christmas Rush. Get Rid of All.

About four thousand pieces of parcel post mail were received at the Gettysburg post office from Saturday to Christmas Day, inclusive. It was all handled promptly and on Thursday afternoon not one piece of undelivered mail remained in the office. Gettysburg was in striking contrast to some other towns in this respect and the successful handling of the big incoming mail, as well as an equally large amount of outgoing letters, cards and parcels, is a matter of which the local post office force is justly proud.

John Slaybaugh, the parcel post man, delivered all of the mail himself until last Tuesday when Charles Myers Jr. was pressed into service to assist him. On Wednesday Postmaster Beales, following instructions from Washington, pressed into service the rural mail carriers with their teams and on the last two mornings they made numerous deliveries about town before starting to cover their regular routes.

The parcel wagon made eight trips a day, which covered the entire town twice, so that people not only got the parcels intended for them but got them promptly. While this delivering was being done the clerks at the office were handling a tremendous amount of outward bound packages and the office saw rapid work. The rural carriers had their wagons loaded to the limit when they covered their routes Wednesday and Thursday but the county people as well as those in town got their mail promptly.

While Gettysburg was getting away with this mail, other places were tied up and the result of this is being felt now. This morning the belated mail started to arrive. Parcels from a distance are coming in a day or two late and many people will get their Christmas gifts after the regular celebration has passed.

In addition to the big parcel business the number of postcards and small remembrance cards was greater than ever before. The small price at which these are sold attracted many buyers and the mail carried hundreds of them daily through the local office. The odd sizes of the envelopes which contained these cards caused them to be considerable of a nuisance but the employees of Uncle Sam were sufficiently imbued with the Christmas spirit not to mind this and all went well.

DEER HUNTERS SIGN PETITIONS

One Paper Circulated Asking for a Closed Season for Five Years, Another Protesting against Such Action. Many Sign Latter.

Recently there was sent throughout a part of Franklin and Adams counties for signatures, a petition asking the state game commission to prohibit the killing of deer in the two counties mentioned for a period of five years. It was alleged that the male deer were being exterminated by the hunters during the open season each fall. The petition was signed by about 200 men, it is said.

To counteract the effect of this, a paper was circulated throughout this same section of country containing the protest of hunters and others against this closed season of five years for deer. It has received more than 700 signatures and 1000 could have been procured had there been sufficient time, it is said.

The protestants against this long closed season say there are more deer than ever in the mountain and that there is no necessity for cutting off the annual hunting season.

Pennsylvania's bear hunting season will close next Wednesday night as one of the most disappointing known in years, unless snow falls and the weather becomes much colder. The bears have not ventured into the open because they did not have to hunt very much for food and there has been no snow to track them. There is practically no bear hunting ground in this county but Adams County hunters usually visit Fulton County for a day's bear hunt during the deer season.

Paul Gilmore and Associate Players, in Their Great New York Success.

The management of Walter's Theatre in which Paul Gilmore is to present "Captain Alvarez", H. S. Sheldon's great new romantic drama on December 31 gives a positive guarantee that this is one of the best attractions that has ever appeared here. This guarantee was made after having read the newspaper clippings from other cities where this company has appeared, all testifying to the merit of the production, though an acquaintance with Mr. Gilmore's work in former years and a firm conviction of the worth of all his former productions, should in itself carry weight sufficient to justify a guarantee of this attraction.—advertisement

CALUMET DROPS XMAS FESTIVITIES

Seventy-two Were Killed in Fire Panic at Celebration.

STAMPEDED BY FALSE CRY

The Exit Stairways Were Choked With Dead, Over Whom Others Trampled Way to Safety.

Calumet, Mich., Dec. 26.—Because of the appalling loss of life in the panic following a false cry of "Fire!" at a Christmas celebration here on Wednesday night, nearly all the Christmas trees in the city have been dismantled out of respect to the childless homes.

The citizens are responding generously to the appeals for financial aid for the families of the stricken. It developed that only a few of the families which have suffered bereavement are able to bury their dead. Mr. Meyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, asserted that the organization will defray the expenses of the funerals.

Twenty-one girls, twenty-five women, twenty-one boys and five men—a total of seventy-two persons—is the corrected list of the dead.

The celebration was held for the children of the striking copper miners. Parties bent on lynching are searching the city from end to end for the man who raised the fire cry. A Mrs. Caesar, who seized him as he shouted the fatal word, has given an excellent description of the man.

The city is in a state bordering on anarchy over the appalling disaster. The miners, embittered by their long struggle and penniless condition as a result, are desperate, especially those who lost relatives in the panic.

The authorities are mystified over the action of the stranger in raising the cry of fire. There was not a suggestion of fire in or near the building. The police believe him to be a madman, or else to have been too drunk to realize what he was doing.

The exercises of the happiest evening the mining town has known for months were in full swing, and hundreds of miners and their wives were looking on as the children pressed eagerly toward the stage to receive Christmas presents. At that instant an unidentified man ran up the stairs and cried "Fire!" in at the open doorway.

Immediately there was a rush for the stairways, men, women and children swarming down the steps and piling up half way down and at the bottom. Little children who could not go fast enough to get out of the way of those coming behind were crushed and smothered beneath the weight piling down upon them. The majority were smothered to death.

The outside door was opened by passersby, but the children and women were so solidly packed at the bottom of the stairs and halfway to the top of the single flight that they could not be pulled out.

In the meantime others within the building poured over the bodies of the crushed and lifeless at the bottom of the stairs, using them as a roadway to escape from the building. So solidly were the bodies at the bottom of the stairs packed that it was necessary for the firemen and deputy sheriffs to go in the second-story windows with ladders and come down the stairs and pull the children back off the pile at the bottom.

The stairway and other avenues of egress were blocked so effectively that those still inside could not get out and those without could not get in to aid the panic-stricken crowd in the hall. It was some time before the panic subsided. The alarm was spread outside the hall by a few persons who had been near the door and had escaped unhurt. A crowd soon assembled and the work of clearing the hall was begun.

The principal exit was a narrow stairway at the back of the hall, and when this had been cleared of the bodies that filled it nearly to the top and a quick accounting had been made it was found that seventy-two corpses had been piled up beside the building.

New Record for Aviator's Christmas. San Francisco, Dec. 26.—Lincoln Beachey celebrated Christmas by breaking a world's record, looping the loop five consecutive times from a height of 750 feet and landing in a narrow street. Beachey turned a double loop at a height of 300 feet which he says is a record in itself as Pegoud, the originator of this particular freak of aviation, always has performed it from a great height.

Distribution of a special Christmas dividend of 6 per cent, or $3 a share, is to be made by this corporation, which is capitalized at $1,500,000.

PRESIDENT AT PASS CHRISTIAN

Crowd Cheers Wilson in Little Gulf Town.

MISS MARGARET LOSES WATCH

Timepiece Used by the Eldest Daughters of Mr. Wilson's Family Disappeared on Trip to Mississippi.

Pass Christian, Miss., Dec. 26.—President Wilson's special train rolled into Pass Christian right on the minute of time at 6:35 yesterday morning.

All the way from Montgomery, Ala., the route had led under clouded skies and for the greater portion of the time in a driving rainstorm. But along by Gulfport the Wilson luck caught up with the Wilson special and a bright band of golden morning light flooded the little coastal town.

Despite the early hour, however, quite a crowd had gathered to greet the coming chief executive. This is the first time in history that a president of the United States has visited Pass Christian, and the town was awake to do him honor.

For nearly an hour there was not a stir in the residential portion of the private car. It was nearly eight o'clock before President Wilson, Mrs. Wilson, Miss Eleanor Wilson and Miss Helen Woodrow Bones emerged from the car.

As they did so they found the big White House automobile awaiting them. There was a little cheer from the station crowd, and then the president, standing in his car, saluted the gathering and smiling and bowing his Christmas morning greetings, chugged away for the pretty bungalow on the golf front, that is to be, for the next three weeks, the winter capital of the United States.

The Herndon cottage—Beaulieu, which it will be known in golf coastal history—is just 100 yards from the station, according to the count of the White House motor car's cyclometer. The president at once asked about the golf links of the Mississippi Coast Country club, and was informed that it was just thirteen miles away. He smiled at the reiteration of his lucky number.

At Beaulieu there was a flood of Christmas telegrams awaiting the attention of the White House family. The president breakfasted at Beaulieu and after glancing over his mail started for a motor run about the surrounding country.

The sky had practically cleared by this time, but a strong westerly wind with a touch of the north in its teeth made motoring a bit too chilly, and after a spin along the golf shore as far as Gulfport the excursion was abruptly terminated and the party put back to the cottage.

Only one untoward incident marked the trip of the presidential party from Washington to Pass Christian. Miss Margaret Wilson lost her watch—gold, one of considerable value. A search of the private car failed and the White House motor car which conveyed the party failed to disclose the missing timepiece. It was explained that the watch was not of great intrinsic value, but had been interesting to the elder daughters of Mrs. Wilson's family.

EXPLOSION KILLS TWO

Six Others Are Injured When Locomotive Blows Up.

Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 26.—Two men were killed and six were injured when a Washburn railroad engine, running light, blew up on the Erie railroad tracks a quarter of a mile east of Main street, near the northern city line.

The engine came to Buffalo with a full train crew from Niagara Falls to pick up a westbound immigrant train at the Main street crossing Schultz switch tender, signalled the engine to stop, so that he could get a ride to his home in East Buffalo.

The engine was hardly moving when the explosion occurred. Watchman Spang was about to step on the foot of the engine when it exploded and he was carried for more than 150 feet.

New York's New Mayor Sworn In. New York, Dec. 26.—John Purroy Mitchell, elected mayor of New York last month on the fusion ticket, took the oath of office on Wednesday. The oath was administered by Supreme Court Justice Ford in the presence of a few personal friends. Mayor Mitchell will not take office until the first of the year.

MITCHELL SLATED FOR FEDERAL JOB

Labor Leader May be Used in Pacifying Workers.

HE HAS THREE CHOICES

Administration Proposes to Enact More Stringent Immigration Laws and President Desires Mitchell's Assistance.

Washington, Dec. 26.—It has been agreed by the administration here to offer John Mitchell, ex-president of the United Mine Workers, one of three positions, and it is likely that he will be in the employ of the government before many months.

Mr. Mitchell will be offered the position of commissioner of immigration at New York, or commissioner of the bureau of safety, or he will be made a member of the new mediation board.

It is generally admitted that he is the sort of a man desired by the president for any one of the three positions.

Some of his opponents pointed out that he should not be given any government position, and these were told that his friendship for former President Roosevelt would not count against him.

It was also said that John Mitchell would have received some position long ago, only for the indiscreetness of some of his friends, who frequently quoted him without authority. Others have stepped in and explained to the satisfaction of the interested authorities.

There is now only one obstacle, and that is the injunction case pending against Mitchell in the federal courts. It will be remembered that together with Samuel M. Gompers and Frank Morrison, he was found guilty of violating an injunction. The court after months of consideration simply requested the accused to apologize, which would be a technical admission of guilt, and they refused.

The case was then appealed to the supreme court, and it is intimated in certain circles that a decision will be handed down shortly exonerating Mr. Mitchell.

His friends in Washington declare that even with the case pending he could be appointed and that not many votes would be cast against him.

The administration proposes to enact more stringent immigration laws. The labor unions in themselves are demanding them. Hardly a day passes without some Pennsylvania representative, Republican or Democrat, receives a petition demanding a revision of the present regulations.

While Mitchell has not made any public statement on the proposed changes, his friends in Washington say that he is in favor of them. And this being true, it is said, the administration realizes that it needs Mitchell because of his popularity and standing among the laboring classes, to combat any opposition that might be engendered against the immigration bill and to explain to the people the need for such legislation.

Among the packages left by the intruder were several which contained valuable pieces of jewelry valued at some hundreds of dollars.

MISS MAUDE MINAHAN.

New York Girl Who Won't Believe
She Is College Beauty.

To think of a young lady refusing the designation that she is a prize beauty? But that is what Miss Maude Minahan, of Wellesley college, whose home is in New York, most emphatically does, notwithstanding the enthusiasm that certain Boston newspaper correspondents displayed in sending dispatches to the effect, accompanied by photographs of the pretty student, to New York. And her mother even said to a reporter who had seen the photograph that she did not think her daughter "really very pretty." "Stories from Boston," continued Mrs. Minahan, "to the effect that my daughter was voted the prize beauty of Wellesley college are untrue, and I deeply regret that she has received all this notoriety. She is worried over it, and it is likely to spoil her Christmas holidays."

DIES PLAYING SANTA CLAUS

Succumbs in Snow After Making Boy and Mother Happy.

Denver, Colo., Dec. 26.—Moved by the pathetic story of little Wilbur Harris, eight years old, who lives with his widowed mother in a tiny cottage here, W. H. Heap, of Paterson, N. J., who has been suffering with tuberculosis, went in an automobile against the wishes of his physician to play Santa Claus for the poverty stricken widow and child.

Heap brought to the cottage many toys and presents and a few moments later he collapsed, dying in the snow. His body is now on its way east for burial.

However, the little boy, happy with his many gifts from Santa Claus, is unaware of the tragedy which followed. While in Denver Mr. Heap joined an organization known as the Good Fellows. One of the members told him the story of little Wilbur, explaining that the widow was destitute and had told little Wilbur not to expect Santa Claus this year, that he was busy with wealthy boys and could not bother with poor ones.

The child's keen disappointment moved Mr. Heap and he decided to play Santa Claus for him. Just as he left the house after delivering the presents Mr. Heap fell in the snow and died a little while later. He had gone to the house in opposition to the advice of his physician and the strain and exertion proved fatal.

Medical Advertising POOR BLOOD

Cause of Disease. Druggist Tells of Best Remedy for It.

Pure healthy blood is a most essential factor to good health.

Poor, thin, devilized blood may be caused by a weakness of the digestive organs, an accumulation of waste matter in the system, an inactive liver or lack of exercise.

Whatever the cause the best remedy we know is our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, Vinol. It will purify and enrich the blood, tone up the digestive organs, give you a hearty appetite and create strength.

A case has just come to my attention from Guilford, Miss. Mrs. Arnelise Saucier says: "For months I was in a run-down condition and my blood was very poor. I had taken several medicines prescribed by physicians but they seemed to do me no good. Vinol was recommended and from the first bottle I noticed an improvement. I continued its use and now feel as strong and well as ever."

If you have the slightest indication of poor blood take Vinol. If it fails to help you we will give back your money. People's Drug Store, Gettysburg, Pa.

WILLIAM R. GEORGE.

Founder of George Junior Republic, Recently Under Fire.

Philadelphia, Dec. 26.—John Bajanosky, forty-six years old, a baker, of 2320 East Ontario street, was found stabbed to death in a shed behind his home, after his wife and children had been aroused when his daughter, Josephine, twenty years old, had screamed that a man was trying to attack her.

The man escaped. It is believed that it was he who stabbed the father to death before he went to the room of the daughter.

The Bajanoskys had a family party at their home on Wednesday night, but all except the father retired at 10:30 o'clock. He said he would stay up and read. At 2:30 o'clock in the morning the daughter, Josephine, was awakened by a man who was tugging at the bed covering. She screamed.

The mother and eight other children were aroused, but before they could reach the girl's room the intruder had fled. They rushed down stairs and blood stains met their gaze.

They went through the four down stairs rooms and the bakery store in front, and everywhere they saw blood stains. Then they went to a shed in the rear of the house.

In a corner of the shed the sixteen-year-old daughter, Stella, discovered her father's body. On a table in the shed was a long butcher knife, bloody to the handle.

The body was sent to the Episcopal hospital, where it was reported that death must have been instantaneous, as the man was stabbed through the heart.

Schwab Spending $10,000,000 in Improvements.

Bethlehem, Pa., Dec. 26.—Charles M. Schwab, the steel magnate, is spending $10,000,000 on his big Bethlehem steel plant.

In the old Lehigh plant Schwab has just installed a new 500-ton blast furnace, two of the old 200-ton blast furnaces have been dismantled and in their places will be erected another modern 2,500,000 furnace, which when completed will give a battery of seven modern furnaces, each costing more than $2,000,000.

On the twelve acres purchased from the New Jersey Zinc company is being built a rolling mill plant to consist of a thirty-two-inch reversing blooming mill, a four-stand Mesta mill, a twelve-inch and eight-inch combination mill and a ten-inch guide mill.

The puddle mill will be partly rebuilt.

For the crucible department contracts for new sixteen-inch and twelve-inch and eight-inch mills have been let.

To furnish additional steel for the new mills six fifty-ton open-hearth mills will be erected.

A new locomotive repair roundhouse will be erected, its dimensions to be 256 feet long and seventy feet wide.

In the new Saucon plant six additional seventy-five-ton open-hearth furnaces are being built, raising the total to sixteen, and the battery will have an input capacity of more than 1,000,000 tons per year.

A new 1000-ton hot metal mixer, the largest in this country, has just been completed and put into operation.

"We knew that the effective remedy was in the hands of the federal government."

FOR THE CHILDREN

A Jolly Jumping Game.

This is a very active game, which all wide awake children seem to enjoy. Even some of "larger growth" might find it jolly as a means of "breaking the ice" if the party began too stiffly. All the players stand in a ring about two feet apart from each other except one, who takes the place in the middle, holding a long, strong string, to the other end of which is firmly tied a small book or a block of wood wrapped in paper.

The person in the center whips the book around inside the circle on the floor, holding by the string, each time coming nearer the feet of the players forming the ring, who as it nears them must jump over it. As the book is whirled quite rapidly, the jumping is very lively, for if it touches the foot of any one that person must take his or her turn in the middle and try to hit the feet of some one else whose owner is not sufficiently alert. Sometimes one throws the line so deftly that it winds around the ankles of the person on guard, fairly trapping him.

Japanese New Year.

On New Year's day in Japan every one is well dressed. The children in gay colored gowns through the streets, and if they play games their toys are decorated also.

The spirit of giving is encouraged on New Year's day, and beggars are never turned away empty handed from the doors of those who have plenty.

There is a great deal of calling done on this day, and many invitations are extended for dinner parties.

In some ways, you see, their mode of celebrating is like ours, only theirs lasts over three days.

The New Year's congratulations sound something like this (being accompanied by deep bows):

"During the past year I have been of unspeakable trouble to you in many ways. But won't you please honorably condescend to continue your gracious favors to me during another year?"

Training a Dog.

Jumping is the easiest thing to teach your dog. First put him in a corner and hold a cane before him so that he cannot get out without jumping over it. You must not hold it very high or he will crawl under it. Make him hold his head up, however, and you will prevent that. Keep at it until he understands what you want and he will jump without hesitation. After the trick has been learned in the corner it may be tried out in the room.

Later on you may get him to jump through a hoop and still later through a hoop covered with tissue paper, making him break through the paper as he jumps. This will require a good deal of patience, but it may be done and is so odd that you ought to try it.

Conundrums.

When is a wall like a fish? When it is scolded.

Why does a puss purr? For an obvious purr-son.

What part of a fish is like the end of a book? The fins.

Why is an egg like a colt? Because it isn't fit for use until it is broken.

What contains more feet in winter than in summer? A skating rink.

What is it we often tell others to do and cannot do ourselves? To stop a minute.

Why is the figure nine like a peacock? Because it is nothing without its tail.

When Sue Blundered.

Teacher was explaining all about idols, beginning each sentence and allowing the children to finish.

"The idol had eyes," she said, "but couldn't."

"See," answered John.

"It had ears, but couldn't hear," answered Rose.

"It had lips, but couldn't speak," said Jim.

"It had a nose, but couldn't wipe it," shouted Sue.

Streetless Town.

There is one town in the United States that has no streets, only steep trails over the rocks and mountains. This is Morenci, Ariz. No automobiles or vehicles of any kind are in the town. Sturdy ponies, mules and burros pack all the supplies. It is said to be the only town in this country without a conveyance of any kind.

Sleeping Like a Top.

The word top was corrupted from the French word taupe, meaning a mole, which is in the habit of sleeping for long periods. This shows how the meaning of a sentence can be lost in the changing of a word.

A Riddle.

What walks on its head, and on foot, and with boots on, yet barefoot, all at the same time?

Answer.—A hobnail in your boot.

Charade.

My first is a conveyance.
My second is not yours.
The whole is a bright color.

Answer.—Car-mine—carmine.

Tom's Resolve.

"I'm going to turn a brand new leaf," said little Tom, the sinner, and he waited till after 1 P. M. He had had his New Year's dinner.

"For 'mong the things that I'll resolve is to check my appetite And cease from eating everything That I can find in sight."

"But just this once I'll eat my fill; Then if my stomach pain I'll turn the leaf and make resolve To never do so again."

Rather Gave Himself Away.
"I have met this man," said a lawyer, with extreme severity, "in a great many places where I would be ashamed to be seen myself." And then he paused and looked with astonishment at the smiling court and jury.

Gettysburg Druggist

Deserves Praise

H. C. Landau, druggist, deserves praise from Gettysburg people for introducing here the simple buckthorn bark and glycerine mixture, known as Adler's-ka. This simple German remedy first became famous by curing appendicitis and it has now been discovered that JUST A SINGLE DOSE relieves sour stomach, gas on the stomach and constipation INSTANTLY. It's quick action is a big surprise to people.

Strong Party Sentiment.

"What are the duties of the office to which you desire appointment?" asked the official. "I haven't inquired into the duties," replied the applicant. "But," he added rather reproachfully, "it was held by a Republican for years. And you oughtn't to have any doubt that what one of those Republicans can get by with a first class Democrat will be able to do with ease."—Washington Star.

Like New Store Fronts.

Making over store fronts is an industry which has found so many patrons in New York that a number of firms have found it profitable to set aside all other forms of building and devote themselves wholly to helping New York merchants improve the appearance of their establishments by putting a new face on the matter. All classes of merchants, from the small dealer in the suburb to the great dry goods firms, indulge in the luxury of a new kind of front to their business homes every once in so often.

Bell's Telephone Haunted Him.

Dr. Bell had a strong aversion to the ringing of the telephone bell—the great invention for which he is responsible. I occasionally went into his room and found the bell stuffed with paper, or wound around with towels. "Little did I think when I invented the thing," said Dr. Bell one day, when he had been awakened by the ringing of the bell, "that it would rise up to mock and annoy me."—From Aviation Book, by Glenn Curtiss.

Why "Bucket Shop."

The phrase "bucket shop" originated in Chicago. The board of trade had forbidden dealings in grain options in less amounts than 5,000 bushels. An open board was established for small gamblers under the rooms of the regular board. When business was slack in the regular board the elevator would be sent down for another "bucketful" of speculators from the unauthorized exchange, which thus came to be known as the "bucketshop."

Cemetery Advertisement.

Advertising a cemetery is something not generally encountered, but this recently has occurred at Sydney, N. S. Wales, Australia. A newspaper advertised a local cemetery as "commanding so beautiful a view of the bay that people who have tried it cannot be persuaded to go elsewhere."

Had His Number.

The newly accepted young man was "making up" to his sweetheart's impish small brother, Willie, evincing a desire to inspect his watch charm, the visitor lifted Willie to his lap. In a pause of general conversation Willie piped, shrilly: "Am I as heavy as sister Mabel?"

A DANGEROUS MISTAKE

Gettysburg Mothers Should not Neglect Kidney Weakness in Children.

Many children have weak kidneys. An early warning is bed-wetting. Often followed by backache, headache, languor.

'Tis a mistake to neglect these troubles. To blame the child for its own distress.

Seek to check the cause, Save the child from dangerous kidney ills.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for weak kidneys.

Gettysburg parents know their worth.

G. W. Bowers, carpenter, Gettysburg, Pa., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and have found that they do me more good than any other kidney remedy. One of the younger members of my family had weak kidneys and Doan's Kidney Pills cured her. I advise anyone who has kidney complaint to take this remedy."

If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Bowers had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Have Dark Hair

And Look Young

Nobody can Tell when you Darken Gray, Faded Hair with Sage Tea

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe ready to use for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.

TRAIN SMASHES INTO BUILDING

Office of Kelly and Oyler Struck by Freight Car is Overturned.
Finds Money in Place. Early Morning Mishap.

Crashing into the office of Kelly and Oyler, coal dealers, early Sunday morning a draught of freight cars upset the building with as little trouble as though it had been built of pasteboard. The collision caused a loud report which was heard over the western portion of town.

The accident occurred while a Western Maryland crew was working on the "Y" near Springs avenue. Four cars were being shifted onto the Reading tracks when the forward truck of one of them left the rails and was carried along until the coal office at the side of the track was reached, when the impact caused the engineer to throw on all brakes. The building was thrown off its foundation and completely turned on its side.

Two walls were left intact but the other two were splintered, windows were broken and other damage done.
The contents of the office were not harmful in any way and when an inspection was made most of the furniture was found in its accustomed place. In addition Mr. Kelly found a cigar box containing eight dollars in change that he did not know he possessed.

The cause of the accident is not known. It is said that a Reading gang of workmen had been working about the track near the scene of the accident on Saturday but nothing was found wrong with the track after the accident occurred. There was apparently nothing wrong with the car that jumped and no solution of the cause has been advanced.

The scene of the affair was visited on Sunday by a large number of people.

SOON SORRY

Miss Edith Miller Marries in Haste.
Now Repents.

Disillusioned after less than twenty-four hours of married life, Miss Edith Miller, of Mechanicsburg, the pretty society girl who eloped Friday night to Baltimore with Horace K.
Maeyer, of Harrisburg, is at home asking that her father take steps to annul the marriage. She has a large number of friends in Gettysburg where she has attended various social affairs.

Miss Miller went home Sunday afternoon, telling her husband when she left him at the train in Harrisburg, that she wanted to go to her parents.
When she reached home she broke down, and said she never wanted to go back.

RADIUM IN EGGS CURES ILLS

Prospector Whose Children Let Hens Get It the Authority.

Crestone, Colo., Jan. 26. — Cyrus Whiffle, who has been prospecting in Paradox Valley, says he has discovered a cure for rheumatism, dyspepsia, indigestion and many other diseases.

He came home recently from a prospecting trip, bringing with him, he says, a small sack of radium bearing ore.

Whiffle's children, playing with the ore, dumped one of the pieces in the drinking fountain used by the Whiffle hens. As a result, according to Whiffle, the water became strongly radioactive, the hens drank it and their egg production almost doubled. Many of the hens began laying two eggs daily.

MR. ASPER BUYS BIG BRICK PLANT

Dillsburg Plant Sold to Adams County
Man for Mere Song. Original Cost Far into the Thousands. Will soon Operate.

The large plant of the Dillsburg Vitrified Brick and Tile Company, built over five years ago at a cost of $165,000, was on Saturday knocked down at public sale to Charles S. As-per, of Asper's station, at the price of $5,010.

The plant is said to be the largest in Pennsylvania, but was never put into full service for the reason that by the time the plant was completed, all the capital of those interested was involved. The original cost of the plant was to be $75,000, but this was more than doubled before the work was completed. The sale was conducted by D. W. Beitzel, cashier of the Dillsburg bank.

Mr. Asper is manufacturing tile at his home in Adams county and expects to put the other plant into service in the near future, but on a smaller scale than originally intended.
The full working force of the plant is several hundred men. When the plant was first put into operation the brick were not what was intended and this precipitated the downfall.

The promoter of the company was John W. Ivory, and the plant has been known as "Ivory's Folly." The machinery is all in first-class condition and there are five acres of land. The plant is considered the best real estate bargain offered at Dillsburg for years.

ASSORTED WEATHER

To Prevail in Varied Forms During
Most of the Week.

A varied assortment of wintry weather for different sections of the country was forecast by the Weather Bureau for the coming week.

"The week will open with generally unsettled weather," said the bulletin,
"and there will be a moderate cold wave in New England and the Middle Atlantic States. A disturbance now over the plains States will move eastward attended by general snows over the northern, snows and rains over the central, and rains over the southern districts, and by somewhat higher temperatures generally, reaching the Atlantic coast Monday night or Tuesday."

"This disturbance will be followed by fair weather for a day or two, but another marked disturbance now on the north Pacific coast will reach the eastern States with rain or snow by Friday. It will be followed by clearing weather and more winter temperatures, beginning by Tuesday over the Far West, by Thursday over the central portion of the country, and by the close of the week over the East."

elected the old officers and directors, none of whom is from this vicinity.

years, the mine near New London is

FED PARTRIDGES

Squire Hammers Sets Free Fifteen Fine Partridges.

Squire Hammers, who had fifteen nice partridges with his pigeons, set them free last week. They hesitated to leave the premises, as they were well cared for. Thirty-five years ago the squire protected 25 birds over the winter. D. K. Snyder and Levi Rein-ecker each donated a bushel of wheat.
The birds were let go in the Spring and a number of coveys were on the farm the following fall. The hunters flocked there and the feeding of the birds was rather expensive. Few farmers will kill a partridge.

INDIAN SCHOOL TROUBLE AGAIN

Carlisle Indian School Superintendent States that he would Welcome an Investigation. Various Charges are Alleged, it is Said.

"I will welcome any fair investigation, and the more thorough it is the better. The record of the school speaks for itself."

Thus spoke Superintendent Moses Friedman, of the Carlisle Indian School, upon his return to Carlisle from Washington when asked for a statement regarding the recent charges brought against him and the school.
Continuing, Mr. Friedman stated that he would have a further statement to issue to the public, probably next week.

According to some citizens in Carlisle who have been defending the superintendent, Mr. Friedman will not tolerate incompetency about the school and it is said that during the past year quite a number of employes who have been under civil service have been dropped for cause and that they are back of the investigation.

Mr. Friedman claims the record made by the school since he has been in charge speaks for itself, and residents of Carlisle who favor his retention say that he has vigorously prosecuted charges of illegal sale of liquor to Indian students. It is said, too, that Mr. Friedman devotes all of his time to the school and that he has ceased the standard of the athletic and academic courses.

While in Washington Mr. Friedman took occasion to say that the charges against him were instigated by Colonel R. H. Pratt, former head of the school and its first superintendent.
Commissioner Sells refused to hear any counter-charges, and informed Mr.
Friedman that his place was at Carlisle and not in Washington, having gone there without sanction of the bureau.

Some of the charges preferred against the superintendent set forth that liquor was used by the Indians in the school; that more than one-third of the scholars allege Mr. Friedman is incompetent; that the attitude of the superintendent became so offensive to the scholars that they hissed him when he appeared before them, and that the commission of certain offenses by the Indians shows more than anything else a deplorable lack of discipline.

o'clock. The employes responded promptly to the factory only to find that the water gauge on the boiler had burst and the escaping steam was the cause of the alarm.

U. OF P. HARD HIT BY SUICIDE WAVE

Three Students Kill Themselves Within a Week.

"WHO'S NEXT?" ASK OTHERS

Motives That Impelled the Young Men to Quit the World Are Shrouded in Mystery.

Philadelphia, Jan. 26.—Suicide has chilled with terror the very heart of the University of Pennsylvania. The deaths of three students by their own hands within less than a week have created a morbid atmosphere that pervades the entire institution.

While the secret motives that impelled the three young men to quit the world and living are still shrouded in mystery and the police are striving with little effect to tear away the veil one fact is certain, the university people, students and faculty alike, are fairly paralyzed by the horror of the unprecedented series of university tragedies.

Morbid thought and morbid fear weigh down the hearts of staid professors and instructors and students, accustomed to playing pranks and making the most of school day opportunities for fun.

The questions that are uppermost and almost solely in every heart, but are asked only in whispers when they are asked at all are:

"What does it mean? Who will be the next?"

The police said they had found no explanation for the apparent epidemic of suicidal mania in the university.

Addison (Hartley) McCullough, of Pittsburgh, Pa., a Wharton school student, a young man of good brain and body apparently, popular among students and faculty, a youth of "great expectations," plunged to death in the Delaware river from the Snyder avenue wharf a week ago last Friday night. He is in his grave.

Rumors of a quarrel with a sweet heart that broke the heart of the youth and moved him to seek solace in death reached the police, but they were only rumors and even now no person has been found to say they are true.

Wardwell T. Towneley, of Philadelphia, a student in the architectural school, a member and a leader in the Mask and Wig club, a fraternity man and identified with half a dozen other university organizations, shot himself on the lonely old Darby-Radnor road on Thursday morning.

Towneley's father, Louis J. Towneley, head of the National Casket company, said he was positive that no sorrow for the loss of McCullough drove his only son to his death. Then he added bitterly:

"If you want to know any more about it go to the Mask and Wig club rooms and to those fraternities. They know all about it."

While Towneley's body was being taken to Bloomfield, N. J., formerly his home, for interment, Raymond Francis Feldman, of Tunkhannock, Pa., near Wilkes-Barre, was planning death for himself.

Horror already had struck the university when news of the third suicide within less than a week reached the students. Where would the thing end? What could it mean? Who would be the next to go?

Feldman asphyxiated himself with illuminating gas in his boarding house room at 214 South DeKalb street. He was in poor health and had little means, though $170.40 was found in his room.

Unlike Towneley and McCullough, he was a member of no fraternities or other societies, took no part in the social activities of the university.

Feldman was of a morose disposition. He seldom spoke to any one. He went about hanging his head, apparently afraid to look people in the face. Many students said they were not surprised to learn he had ended his life, for he was deemed "queer."

FIVE PINNED UNDER AUTO

All Are Injured When Motor Skids and Turns Turtle.

Bloomington, Pa., Jan. 26.—Skidding on the icy road near here, the automobile of Warren Weaver, of Wilkes-Barre, struck an embankment, turned turtle and held prisoners beneath it Mr. and Mrs. Weaver, Miss Minto Savage, Mrs. Mary McHenry and daughter, Rachel, of Bloomington.

All suffered lacerations and bruises, and Miss Savage suffered slight concussion of the brain. The automobile was wrecked.

Mrs. Weaver managed to extricate herself and, assisted by her husband, pinned face downward, who lifted the car with his back, she released the others.

JULIA FLAKE.

Love of Stepfather Led Her to Plot Mother's Death.

The intense love which Julia Flake, sixteen years old, of Galesburg, Ill., bore for her stepfather, Robert Higgins, led to the murder of the girl's mother, Higgins' wife. Her young love was returned. She continually urged Higgins to commit the crime. The girl even wrote to relatives plotting her own mother's death. Higgins confessed "because the officers told me Julia would suffer if I remained quiet." He continued: "Julia kept asking me to kill my wife, so I did, finally. She kept telling me if I didn't she would commit suicide." The girl will probably be freed and the stepfather prosecuted.

28 YEARS IN PRISON; GOES FORTH FREE

John Rudy, Who Killed His Father, is Released.

Philadelphia, Jan. 26.—Gaunt, gray and bent with age, a man who has spent twenty-eight years of his life behind prison walls, where he had been placed that he might pay his debt to the community for a crime committed in anger, emerged from the walls of the eastern penitentiary today, a free man.

Twenty-eight years ago John Rudy, who was then nearly thirty years old, and lived with his wife and two sons in Lancaster, Pa., killed his father when he struck him down with a hammer. Rudy was convicted and had his case appealed to the higher court in his effort to remain a free man.

The sentence of the lower court was affirmed and Rudy was sentenced to pay for his crime by serving the remaining years of his life behind the walls of the eastern penitentiary.

Dr. Rudy, a brother of the murdered man, became interested in the case of his nephew a few years ago, and last Wednesday succeeded in having the pardon board pass favorably upon the case of the man who entered the penitentiary in the prime of life and left as a bent and broken-hearted man.

During the years Rudy has spent behind the prison walls the man has saved some money and will endeavor to go to some place where his identity is not known and spend the remaining years of his life.

With the exception of the doctor who has helped the man to again walk the streets of the world a free man, Rudy has no one to whom he can turn.

A few months after Rudy began to serve his sentence his wife got a legal divorce, married again and, with her two sons, left the scenes where she had spent the early years of her life.

During all the years Rudy has been confined in the penitentiary not a person has visited him, nor has he ever received any message from those he knew and loved.

SEES KNIVES GRIP HIS SON

Horried Father Stops Corn Shredder, Saving Boy's Life.

Boyetown, Pa., Jan. 26.—Playfully assisting his father to shred corn fodder, Clarence, the seven-year-old son of Harry B. Renninger, of Congo, about five miles from this place, reached into a power driven shredding machine, the knives of which caught his left hand, drawing him into the machine up to the shoulders.

The father, horrified, stopped the machine, which had badly lacerated and mangled the arm, which was amputated a few inches below the shoulder.

Tries Suicide After Third Arrest.

Wilmington, Del., Jan. 26.—Because he had been arrested three times in forty-eight hours, Levi Taylor, a colored farmhand, who some weeks ago said that he had inherited $200,000 from a rich woman in Atlantic City, attempted suicide in his cell in the police station. He tied his suspenders around his neck so tightly that when discovered by the officers he was unconscious.

VELVET AND FUR A FAVORITE COMBINATION

Velvet has always been considered to be one of the richest and most becoming of fabrics, but formerly, owing to the fact that it soils easily, was not considered practical for general wear.

Evening coats were made of it and once in a while a suit, but this season it is being used widely. Manufacturers have outdone themselves to produce supple velvets both plain and broadened, and the colors are entrancing. Of greater and greater importance grow the fur trimmings, the natural skins yielding with the rather fantastic looking dyed pelts. An old rose velvet suit, for instance, is trimmed with bands of old rose caracul, and to add to the effect a huge muff of the dyed fur accompanies the gown. This fall, however, seems to be gradually dying out as it offers such an opportunity for substituting poor skins, and the dyed furs are really not as attractive as the furs with their natural colors.

7166 is smartly fashioned of a broadened velvet; the huge collar, the muff, also the band around the bottom of the skirt are of black fur. This coat may be made in size 36 with 5 yards of 42 inch velvet or material. A gracefully draped overskirt is a feature of the fascinating frock for afternoon shown in 7935. The wide hip sash of Roman stripes would give the most sober of materials. One of the most attractive novelties being shown in the shops at the moment is the knitted sash of colored silks. They come in various widths and drape most beautifully.

To copy 7935 in size 36 requires 7 1/2 yards of 36 inch material with 3/4 yard of banding.

HANDLING THE DAIRY BRED BULL

The news press has contained several notices recently relative to loss of human life by attacks of dairy bred bulls, says the Kansas Farmer. This brings up the question as to whether or not bulls of dairy breeding are more inclined to viciousness than are those of beef breeding.

It is our judgment that males of dairy breeding are much more so inclined than males of beef breeding. It must be remembered that the dairy bred male is of nervous temperament. Beef bred males are of what is known in humans as the lymphatic temperament, being symbolical of sluggishness.

This difference in temperament does not necessarily imply that all dairy bred males are vicious and unsafe.

His horns should be removed, and while taking them off in calfhood will result in leaving a head of more shape, form and of greater beauty. We do believe that dehorning at the age of twelve to eighteen months has a good effect on him. It has a tendency to take the fight out of him and show him that there are other controlling powers besides himself. Nevertheless the male should be handled cautiously. Persons about him should at all times be on their guard. Every such animal should have a ring in his nose. If he is inclined to be unruly and has the freedom of the pasture a chain or rope dragging in the ring will have a taming effect and will often prevent injury in case he should give chase.

The practice, however, of allowing the dairy bred male the freedom of the pasture and feed lot is not a wise one for reasons other than that of danger to human life.

It is said of the pure bred Guernsey sire that he is able to stamp his breed characteristics on other cattle. The Guernsey is a producer of milk of high quality and of a rich yellow color. In many respects they resemble the Jersey, being noted for the high per cent of butter fat in milk produced. As a butter making cow there are few that surpass the Guernsey. Pilot of the dairy, whose photo is here reproduced, was champion bull of his breed at the Illinois state fair.

However, it does account for a much larger percentage of them being so than in the case of males of beef breeds. However, the male of dairy breeds should be carefully handled to avoid the development of viciousness. The herdsman should make a friend of the male. The male should be taught to know that the herdsman is his friend. He should be more frequently handled with a friendly stroke than with the pitchfork. The herdsman should, of course, be firm with him at all times, giving the male to understand that his herdsman is boss. It is our observation that the male cannot be ruled by fear. He can fight and he knows it and he will fight if necessary.

It Pays to Groom Cows. A little grooming or brushing will have a great influence on the appearance of the cow. A few minutes spent in this way will pay large dividends in better looks and also in a greater price of farm stock and better returns.

Rusty Farm Implements. Rusty moldboards and cultivator shovels are a nuisance, and it requires hours of hard horse and man work to clean them. A little hot paraffin brushed over them when put away keeps the iron as bright as you wish, and the minute you start all goes well.

Moving Picture. "Why," asked the man in the brown derby, whose attention had been called to the unsteady progress of a tipsy reveler who was passing, "do you say that that man reminds you of moving pictures?" "Because," replied his companion, placidly lighting a cigarette, "his eyes are filmed and he reels."

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Thickness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

... THE LEADERS ...

General Dry Goods Department Store

We have not for some years advertised a White Goods Sale in JANUARY the time when City stores usually advertise these lines very extensively and in which they offer seemingly great bargains and yet we have always done extra business in this department because of our values—both in made up Underwear and Piece Goods of every character.

The usual city advertisement exploiting these lines is misleading for the reason that comparative values would lead the average reader to believe that there has been a reduction of regular prices special for these sales.

Our purchase of Under Muslins

was made months ago when Muslins and Long Cloths were less in price than they have been since. Garments were made for regular stock, not for a Special Sale, priced on the basis of right buying and we are willing to compare values with any store—city or elsewhere.

A large selection of every character in Gows, Skirts, Drawers, Bloomers, Corset covers, Combinations &c.

In Piece Goods...

We anticipated our January wants, also the probable advance in prices of Cotton Goods and made our contracts months ago to make this saving—which is now yours.

Special Values in Long Cloths,

Cambrics,
Lingerie Crepes,
Check Cambrics & Lawns,

Sheetings,
Pillow Tubing & Muslins, Sheets, Pillow Cases &c.

Counterpanes from $1.00 to $4.00 (from 25 cents to $1.00 under present market)

Yard Wide Bleached Muslins—at 8-9-10 cts. worth from 10 to 12 1-2 cts.

Shirtings in Madras and Seersuckers, Piques, Linaires, Percales and Devonshire Cloths Galateas and Dress Gingham.

And many other New Goods coming in daily.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

Philadelphia Jack O'Brien Returns to Ring.

Philadelphia Jack O'Brien has re-entered the ring and is hot on the trail of the new crop of white hopes that have sprung up. He has an idea that he can whip Gunboat Smith, who recently whipped Arthur Pelley in San Francisco.

Philadelphia Jack says he can hit as hard as in his best days and that he is rapidly regaining his speed.

Well, Jack, come along and prove the truth of your bold words—if you can.

How about starting off with Johnny Kilbane or Abe Attell?

Blames Tinker For Jumping.

"We have treated Joe Tinker in a regular business way and in a gentlemanly way," says Vice President McKee of the Brooklyn baseball club. "and he has treated us unfairly. We assume that he is a member of the Baseball Players' fraternity, and as such he should have waited before signing with outlaw baseball at least until the national commission had taken action on the demands of the fraternity."

In regard to taking the Tinker case to the courts, Bernard York, counsel for the Brooklyn club, said he had not given the subject sufficient study to be able to say just yet whether resort would be taken to the federal courts or the New York or Illinois state courts. Speaking offhand, he said inasmuch as the Brooklyn club is a New Jersey corporation and the Tinker deal with the Federal club was presumably made in Chicago the injunction would be sought in the United States court.

York conceded that in this event the fight of organized baseball against the Federal league might reach the United States supreme court.

As to the Federal League.

Public sympathy appears to be with the Federal leaguers, and there is no doubt that they will get a certain amount of support purely through sentiment. A baseball fan is a fickle institution and hates peace. But he also likes his good baseball. He will be for the Federalists strong at the start, but unless they show as good baseball as the players in the older leagues he will not stick. Next to trouble the baseball fan loves his money's worth, and unless the Federal league gives it to him he will run right out and leave it flat. The promoters of the new league know that and for that reason are very cautious about trying to put a team where there is too much competition.

The one thing needed by the Federal league is money and plenty of it. Notwithstanding reports to the contrary, the backers who have been mentioned have not enough to carry it through and must depend upon the sale of stock to raise the necessary funds. Mr. Wreckman of Chicago and Mr. Steifel of St. Louis are wealthy, but the report that they are multimillionaires is erroneous.

Olympic Fund Fiasco.

The British Olympic fund, whose sponsors aspired to secure $500,000 through a national subscription, has turned out to be a monumental fiasco. In October last the special Olympic games committee decided unanimously that if the fund did not reach $125,000 by the end of 1913 the committee would be justified in proceeding further in the matter. On the expiration of the time limit the subscriptions aggregated only a paltry $55,000.

Of the total sum subscribed only $32,500 is in cash, the balance having been merely provisionally promised, and out of the cash collected the committee already has expended $17,500, which leaves a balance of $15,000 to try to discover and train a team to avenge Great Britain at the Berlin Olympic games in 1916 for the defeat inflicted on her by the American athletes at Stockholm.

Medical Advertising WHAT GETTYSBURG WANTS TO KNOW

The Answer Is Found in the Statement of a Gettysburg Resident.

From week to week, from year to year, there have been appearing in these columns statements made by neighbors, which we have all read with great interest, and many of us with great profit. But what we want to know is, do they stand the greatest test of all—the test of time? Here is conclusive evidence on this point from a Gettysburg man:

Mrs. C. Culp, 423 Washington St., Gettysburg, Pa., says: "We still use Doan's Kidney Pills in our family and find them very good. One of the family had an attack of kidney complaint after the measles and was left with very weak kidneys. He also had backache and pains in his sides and whenever he lifted, he was in distress. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended and he gave them a trial. I never thought a medicine could give relief so quickly. We recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone who is troubled with kidney complaint."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Geraniums.

After the midwinter there will be room enough to space out the geraniums and other bedding stock. The cuttings that were placed in flats and the young stock in two inch pots should be shifted to the three inch size and spaced on the benches so that a good growth is encouraged. As soon as well established in these pots the top can be cut off and another cutting obtained. All the young stock possible should be taken from the plants selected in the fall for propagating purposes, for all the cuttings from which it is expected to produce good sized plants should be in the propagating bench by Feb. 1. Any rooted after March 1 will make small plants for bedding purposes. The best stock for late May and early June planting should be in four inch pots by April, that they may be well enough established by the middle of May to begin to flower and should have at that time three or four good branches that a succession of bloom is assured.

LEGAL NOTES.

Where a creditor grants an extension of time for payment by agreement with the principal debtor, reserving his rights against the surety, the surety is not discharged unless his rights have been affected by the extension.—National Park vs. Kohler, 121 N. Y. S. 640.

One party to a contract of sale need not proceed to a complete performance of the contract in order to recover for materials furnished under the contract where the other party has violated the contract and shown intention not to perform.—Willis vs. Jarrett, N. Car. 67 S. E. 265.

Where articles are sold for a particular purpose—as, for example, food sold for consumption—there is an implied warranty on the part of the seller that it is fit for the intended use, and if it is not he is liable to the purchaser for all damages suffered.—Cook vs. Darling, Mich. 125 N. W. 411.

A right of way over another's premises will not be implied unless it is strictly essential in order to obtain access to the land for the benefit of which it is presumed to have been granted. The theory of an implied easement is based upon the probable intention of the parties.—Bauman vs. Wagner, 130 N. Y. S. 1016.

A PRIME DUTY.

Teachers and parents, who should have at heart the highest welfare and happiness of the boys and girls of school age, should keep more steadfastly in mind than some of them do the fact that important as are text books and instruction as factors in educational development they are not more so than are the moral ideals and practice in morals which these same schools should be an aid in developing. County superintendents of schools and the teachers under their charge have no more important duty than that of looking after the moral atmosphere of rural schools.
